UNIVERSITY HALLS OF RESIDENCE SERVICE

VICE-RECTORSHIP OF UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY AND SOCIAL COMMITMENT

UR Burgo das Nacións

The present-day building of the Residence occupies part of the complex known as "Burgo das Nacións", which was a provisional building constructed in 1965 to provide accommodation for pilgrims travelling to Compostela during that Jubilee Year.

When the 1965 Holy Year ended, the ensemble of modules which made up the complex, built using light and temporary materials, fulfilled other shortcomings and was used to house other institutions, which required more solid facilities: it was a Postgraduate Residence, lecture rooms for various graduate specialities, headquarters of the University printing service and the University nursery, and it also housed the National Police Force premises, etc.

In 1979 the USC started using Burgo das Nacións as a mixed university residence. During the academic year 1986-87, the construction of the present-day building was started, and it was finished in the year 1992-93.

The Residence is located in the North Campus, approximately 500 metres from the centre of the old town.
